Two men drown as 56 mph winds sink duck boat on Grass Lake

by GLORIA DAVIS

Three area men were in a 10 foot duck boat on Grass Lake, at 3 p.m., on Saturday, April 3, when winds gusting up to 56 mile per hour raised waves that swamped the boat 200 yards north of the channel.

According to Antioch Fire Chief Todd Mapletorpe, Mark Manning, 21, Waukegan, floated to shore using one of the boat's gas tanks and was taken to Victory Memorial Hospital by the Antioch Rescue Squad, where he was treated for exposure.

The body of William Manning, 24, also of Waukegan, was recovered by divers at 2 p.m., on Sunday, April 4. As of press time, Monday, April 5, divers were still searching for the body of Johnny Haling, 18, whose family owns Haling's Resort, the boat's destination.

Divers from Antioch, Fox Lake, Libertyville and Waukegan, Lake County's Underwater Recovery Team, boats from Fox Lake, Antioch, and the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., and Antioch's Explorer Post were all involved in the search.

A U.S. Coast Guard helicopter took to the air, despite the high winds, to scan the slough area.

Fire cause electrical, ignites in freezers

by GLORIA DAVIS

According to Wayne Parthun, chief investigator for the Antioch Fire Dept., the fire that destroyed the Jewel Food Store was an electrical one that started in the wooden freezers in the southwest corner of the back room, 20 feet from the back door of the supermarket.

The freezers were used to store orange juice and frozen cakes.

A small fire in the rubble had the Antioch Fire Dept. back at the fire scene on Tuesday, March 30. The fire was put out in a few minutes despite the high winds that evening.

On Wednesday, March 31, after the safe was removed from the debris and the fire and safety inspectors finished their perusal, the front wall of the store came down and equipment began removal of the burnt debris left inside.

Reports say that structural engineers hired by the owners, who came in from their home in Michigan, decided not to tear down the remaining three walls, but to brace them.

Andy Bernhardt, president of the State

Bank of Antioch, whose driveway borders the west wall of the burnt building, said that the structural experts had advised him that the walls would be safe when braced.

According to Antioch Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz, the village has asked the engineers for a guarantee that the walls would be safe in writing for the protection of the village.

All the remaining food stores in Antioch, large and small, are doing their best to handle the increased shopping traffic since the A&P closed its doors on Saturday, March 27, and the Jewel's fire, early Sunday morning, March 28.

Antioch's fire and police departments responded within minutes after being notified.

The fire departments of Trevor, Fox Lake, Grayslake, Newport, Lake Villa, Fox Lake, Zion, Round Lake and Gurnee, helped Antioch's extinguish the blaze that burned till dawn.

Sterbenz said that at present she was not aware of anything that the village was, or could be, doing to alleviate the increased demand for food shopping facilities except to hope that the remaining stores could handle it.

She did express concern over the coming summer influx of additional shoppers with nothing additional on the horizon.

Mayor Ray Toft, who reported last week that the loss of the A&P and the Jewel would mean an annual loss of $100,000 in sales tax for the village, said he hoped that the people would continue to shop in the smaller stores in town until the situation changed for the better.

Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry President Bill Groeninger said that the subject was on the agenda of the Chamber's board meeting, scheduled for Monday, April 5.

Landfill plans county filing on April 14

by GLORIA DAVIS

Unconfirmed reports say that Waste Management, Inc. intends to withdraw its petition to annex 60 acres to the village of Antioch, adjoining its present HOD landfill. Approximately 36 of these acres are scheduled to be used for a new landfill site.

Al Little, chairman of the committee to investigate the present landfill facilities, said, "Until otherwise informed, the committee still intends to meet on Tuesday, April 6 to finalize its recommendation to be presented to the Antioch Planning Commission on Thursday, April 8.

Little also said that at this point he personally intended to recommend annexation but he was not speaking for the entire committee.

Little's recommendation however would stipulate that Waste Management's request be refiled with the village in two parts, the annexation and M2 zoning request in one and the special use request in another.

37 chemistry students attend career confab

Thirty-seven junior and senior level chemistry students and their instructor, Betty Overocker, from Antioch High School in Antioch attended the Chemical Industries Council (CIC) 1982 Career Conference recently at Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry.

The conference was held to provide students with career and job opportunity information relative to the chemical and pharmaceutical industries. Equally important, the program aimed to develop awareness to the role and effect the chemical industry plays in their everyday life.

The students viewed three museum exhibit presentations, as well as industry exhibits. Each student met industry representatives from a variety of career backgrounds. Midwestern colleges and universities participated in the CIC Center Career Conference to provide curriculum guidance.

Local industries represented at the career conference included Abbott Laboratories, Amoco Chemical Corp., Down Chemical Co., P.P.G. Industries, G.D.

Searle and Co., Stephan Chemical Co., Velsicol Chemical Corp. and Witco Chemical Corp.

The CIC of the Midwest is a non-profit association of the leading chemical and pharmaceutical companies with plants, laboratories, headquarters and/or sales offices located in Illinois and other parts of the Midwest.

Letter To Editor

Editor:

Let's be candid about Waste Management's caper on the people of Antioch. No matter what all the scientific test state, it is absolutely ludicrous to build a dump on top of our well in the middle of our town.

Like many large corporations, Waste Management is telling us, the people of Antioch, that they do not care about us; in fact, no matter what we think, they are going to build a dump in the middle of our town.

This cavalier attitude was evident in the presentations made by Waste Management's two muscle men, Thomas Volini and Trygve Bakkom.

The condescending attitude of these men was appalling, and it is really comforting to know these two eloquent spokesmen for a garbage company know what is in the best interests of the citizens of Antioch.

However, in their platitudes of praise for garbage, the omniscient representatives of garbage left the town a crumb. They claim the citizens of Antioch can decide what to do with the dump after it is filled. That is just like the rapist permitting the ravaged woman to name the baby.

Before the entire village is ravaged, we all better wake up!

HOGARTH W. EASTMAN

Lecturer to speak at bank

Hogarth W. Eastman, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will be giving his lecture "Understand God and Be Healed," here on April 23, at 7:30 p.m., at the State Bank of Antioch, 440 Lake St., Antioch.

Members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Antioch are sponsoring this free, public lecture. Child care will be provided.

The lecturer sees the work of Christian healing growing stronger and cutting across denominational boundaries.

"Jesus came to awaken the thought of the people to the vital present awareness of God," as Eastman sees it. He continues: "Healing and improvement of the human condition was an important step in this awakening. But even more important was the awakening itself, the realization of true individual worth and spiritual freedom by the people he healed."

During the hour-long lecture, Eastman cites several personal experiences of healing. In one account relating to a camping expedition in the wilds of Tasmania, he tells how he was guided out of a terrifying situation by turning to God in prayer.

Lectures are a regular activity of the Church of Christ, Scientist. At this lecture, Eastman will be introduced by Mrs. Barbara C. Beese.

Treating Teeth of Very Young Children
Dentists like to see children brought in for examination early, about age three. Hopefully, the child's baby teeth are present and normal, and no treatment is necessary.
However, even very young children may require treatment, whether due to cavities, accidents or congenital problems. These children often are surprisingly cooperative patients. They don't know they're "supposed" to be afraid of the dentist — so they aren't.
If the child isn't cooperative enough, he or she may be given medication or put to sleep before treatment. Some dentists are equipped to give general anesthesia in their offices. If the necessary treatment is extensive, or if the child has medical problems, the dental treatment can be done in a hospital.
Parents should know that it's possible to do extensive dental treatment, if necessary, even on very young children.

The test, which is performed by the hospital's respiratory therapists, can determine the condition of your lungs by measuring how fast and how much air is exhaled through the use of specialized equipment. The test is painless and only takes a minute.

Test results will be given to the participants with a recommendation to consult their physician if findings are outside normal limits. Free pulmonary function testing will be offered the third Thursday of each month at the satellite.

thwestern University, a degree in English and psychology from the University of Chicago and performed her postgraduate work at the Chicago Institute for Psychoanalysis, Loyola University Graduate School of Social Work.

'DOCTOR' OPENS — PM&L's "Good Doctor" will open on Saturday, April 10. Shown in rehearsal are, left, Michael Stanton, Antioch and Dawn Ferry, Gurnee.

'Good Doctor' opens

Neil Simon's hilarious comedy, "The Good Doctor," will open next week at the PM&L Theater, 877 Main St., in Antioch. The first performance of this rib-tickling farce is scheduled for Saturday night, April 10.

Additional evening presentations will take place Friday and Saturday nights, April 16, 17, 23 and 24.

There will also be a matinee performance Sunday afternoon, April 18. A newly instituted PM&L practice, the Sunday matinee is becoming increasingly popular with audiences, affording many playgoers an opportunity to bring their families to see the shows.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for the evening presentations and 2:30 p.m. for the Sunday matinee. To see any of these performances, be sure to call (312) 395-3055 for your reservations, and to check in at the PM&L box office by 8:15 p.m. at night, or 2:15 p.m. in the afternoon.

Bruce Stamm of Antioch has recently joined the PM&L cast of "The Good Doctor." Area theatergoers will remember Bruce's outstanding work in such shows as "Bullshot Crummond," "Dracula," "The Giants' Dance," and "Carousel," and can look forward to enjoying his comic work in the Neil Simon farce.

Lyn Kessie of Richmond directs the PM&L production. Others in her cast include Michael Stanton of Antioch; Don Cropp, Mundelein; Ann Marie Cina, McHenry; Lillian Allen, Trevor; Dawn Ferry, Gurnee; and George Blanksten, Antioch.

Many of these are well-known veterans of the Antioch stage whose work in "The Good Doctor" should be especially enjoyed. Don't miss this rollicking comedy, which is, essentially, a group of vignettes and sketches of everyday Russian life, many of them based on the incomparable stories of Anton Chekov.

Audiences will find Simon and Chekov to be an unbeatable team of comedy writers who will keep them laughing long after the final curtain has fallen.

TESTING

Free pulmonary function testing will be offered to the public on Thursday, April 15, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., at St. Therese Area Trauma Satellite (STATS) located on Rte. 59 just south of Grand Avenue, Lake Villa.

When I think about it Can punishment fit crime?

by GLORIA DAVIS

Do you believe that people who plead or are proven guilty of a crime should be punished for punishment's sake or do you believe such punishment should be rehabilitative and should serve to deter others from committing the same crime?

Although many of us have been disillusioned by judicial leniency, that seems to simply spank the wrists of the guilty, I've recently read about two judges that practiced the latter two ideas despite heavy criticism.

The first is a story well-known to people who live on the border of two states with conflicting legal drinking ages.

A pretty high school girl was returning from a New Year's Eve party at which she had nothing stronger to drink than Coca Cola. As she was within a couple of blocks of her home, a car came careening around a curve on her side of the road, smashed into her tiny Volkswagen, instantly crushing her to death.

The driver of the other car, a good-looking teenager, was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and reckless homicide.

Despite the pleas of the girl's parents that the young man get the maximum penalty called for in such cases with a first offender, a year imprisonment, the judge recinded his driver's license and sentenced him to relive the horror of that fateful New Year's Eve by spending his days relating the incident, his feelings, and the consequences of his totally irresponsible act.

The judge was highly criticized for this action and lost a much wanted promotion because of it.

He still says that his sentence would be the same if such a case were brought in front of him again explaining, "I do not think sitting in front of a prison tv set watching soap operas for a year would serve any purpose.

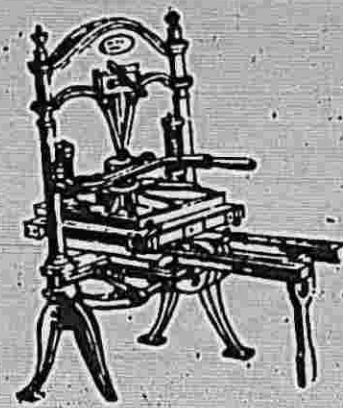

His belief is that constantly talking about the incident will emblazon it on the boy's memory like no prison sentence ever could and that hearing how it feels to kill another human being first hand might stop other teens from going through the same thing.

Just last week another judge heard the case of a man who admitted to the mercy killing of his aged brother who was dying an extremely painful death caused by an incurable cancer.

Instead of sentencing a 70-year-old man to prison, the judge remanded that he spend time doing volunteer work in a nursing home helping people in the same condition that his brother was in.

Our prisons were filled with repeat offenders, proof that in all cases simple incarceration is fruitless at the taxpayers' expense.

Maybe there are times when the old practice of making the punishment fit the crime isn't a bad idea.

The Time Machine

FIFTY YEARS AGO: April 7, 1932

Carl Barthel, Channel Lake cement building contractor, defeated veteran Antioch Township Highway Commissioner Frank Dunn by 139 votes in spring election.

The arrival of spring stirred interest in Antioch's used car market.

The Antioch News ran a story that the women in Burma had more equality with their husbands than was to be found in any other country in the world.

An ad for the National Food Store offered coffee, three pounds for 49 cents and brooms for 39 cents apiece, while the A&P was selling Campbells Soup, four cans for 25 cents.

Ronald Glassman, president of the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America, represented Antioch in a public speaking contest.

THIRTY YEARS AGO: April 3, 1952

There was a continuation of the controversy brought on by the forced resignation of Antioch High School Principal R. C. Edmundson as the members of the staff that had signed the complaint against the school's administration were slated for investigation.

Roy I. Kufalk, co-operative weather observer for the federal government, received a length of service button for 10 years of service.

Sally Ann Lynn, 10, was saved from drowning in the icy waters of Cross Lake by members of the Antioch Rescue Squad, lead by Capt. Herman Holbek.

Sally had jumped in the lake and was sinking beneath the waves when the row boat she was playing in broke away from shore.

The engagement of Gloria Lee Krametbauer of La Grange to Joseph J. Patrovsky was announced.

TEN YEARS AGO: April 5, 1972

The board of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 announced sweeping cuts in the 1972-73 school budget of $175,000.

The cutbacks involved the elimination of all sports activities except physical education, the band, arts and crafts, home economics and the industrial arts program.

The retirement of Antioch High School Superintendent Al Dittman, effective June 22, was announced.

Bruce I. Dalgaard marked his 35th anniversary with Commonwealth Edison.

William Brook, president of the Antioch High School Board, cited the school district's financial problems as being the cause of 16 high school teachers not having their contracts renewed.

All the local food stores deserve a pat on the back for the effort and hustle they've been putting forth to supply the grocery needs of Antioch residents since they lost two of the area supermarkets last weekend.

If old Annie Mae has ever felt like telling someone to get out of town, it's Old Man Winter, who doesn't seem to have a calendar.

Hey Bud, it's spring, get lost! Could you believe those hurricane-like winds on Saturday and then snow on Monday!

Hope the Parks and Recreation's Easter Parade and egg hunt will go on this Saturday, April 10.

Angela and Heather Burke, both 4, were winners in Woodfield Mall's Easter Bonnet Contest, held on March 25.

These talented and creative children were featured models in Woodfield's "Easter Parade of Fashion," on Saturday, April 3.

Our sincere condolences to Fire Chief Todd Mapletorpe and Jim Mapletorpe and their families on the death of their mother, Mary, long a familiar and loved resident of Antioch.

Antioch Rescue Squad declares Medic Alert Week

The Antioch Rescue Squad announces Medic Alert Week from April 4 to 10.

Twenty-six years ago, Medic Alert was formed because of a near fatal accident to a teenager.

In the summer of 1953 in Turlock, Calif., a high school student named Linda Collins cut herself while playing with an air rifle.

Her father and mother were away from home so a neighbor took Linda to the hospital for treatment.

The attending physician gave Linda a sensitivity test to tetanus antitoxin in case she was allergic. Unfortunately, she was highly allergic to the test, went into a coma for three days and almost died.

Her father, physician Dr. Marion C. Collins, determined to prevent this from happening again to Linda, designed a silver bracelet bearing the insignia of the medical profession on the front with the words, "Medic Alert."

On the back was engraved the warning: "Allergic to Horse Serum," the liquid vehicle used at the time for tetanus antitoxin.

Convinced that bracelets or necklaces with medical messages could help save lives and speed treatment in emergencies, Dr. Collins investigated the feasibility of establishing a nonprofit, charitable organization to provide a lifeline to those who might be unable to ask for help in critical situations.

He surmised that people with medication allergies, diabetes, hypertension, heart problems and myriad others with medical problems could find themselves in situations where improper diagnosis and treatment might cost them their lives.

After years of planning and consulting with fellow physicians, nurses, law enforcement agencies, and national leaders, he established the Medic Alert Foundation International in April, 1956.

Unlike many nonprofit, charitable organizations though, Medic Alert has not received any federal or state funds.

It is maintained by enrollment of new members and by grants and contributions from individuals, corporations and other foundations.

Since its birth in 1956, Medic Alert has experienced phenomenal growth, over 1.2 million members in the U.S. and some 600,000 in the 16 affiliated foundations internationally.

More than 7,000 new members join Medic Alert in the U.S. each month. It is no wonder: The Medic Alert Foundation estimated that one out of five Americans has a hidden medical condition.

Medic Alert is a comprehensive 24-hour emergency medical identification system. The emblem is backed up with an annually issued wallet card that carries additional medical and personal information.

Both emblem and card carry the telephone number of Medic Alert's emergency medical information center which contains all the information the member and physician believe necessary for emergency treatment.

This information is available within seconds to emergency personnel via a collect telephone call. To keep information current, each member receives a print-out of his total file each year and is asked to make any necessary changes.

The lifetime membership fee is $15. When, and if, additional information is needed to update a member's file, there is a $4 charge. In cases of financial need, no charge is made.

Ironically, the tetanus sensitivity test that almost killed Linda Collins in 1953 has led to the best emergency medical identification in the world, one that can protect millions all over the world 24 hours a day.

For information contact any member of the Antioch Rescue Squad or look for the displays at the Antioch Police Dept.; Antioch Village Hall; Antioch Twp. Office; Antioch Senior Citizens' Center; or Antioch Rescue Squad Building.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ducommun

Joyce Marie Larson, Boulder, Colo. married Dan Ducommun, Louisville, Ken. on March 20.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Larson, Denver, Colo. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ducommun, Antioch.

Maid of honor was Cindy Larson, sister of the bride; with Peggy Ducommun, sister of the groom and Anne Stutsman and Nancy Werkmiesters as bridesmaids.

Best man was Joe Schneider, with David Ducommun, Kip Stiegler and Bob Dodd as groomsmen.

The couple took a honeymoon trip to Europe and they are living in Louisville, Ken.

The bride is a graduate of Fairview High School and Boulder State University in Colorado. She works for First National Bank, Boulder. The groom is a graduate of Antioch High School and College of Lake County. He works for Blue Grass Electronics, LaGrange, Ken.

Math students compete

On Feb. 25, 12 area high schools competed in the third annual Antioch-Warren Invitational Math Competition. The event was held at Antioch High School in the evening.

Elmer Stone, math department chairman at Warren High School, Warren, Pa., superintendent at Antioch High School, and Jay Bratton of Antioch High School presented the first and second place team members with ribbons.

The over-all first place trophy went to the Stevenson Patriots.

Antioch, Grayslake, Lake Zurich, Libertyville, Mundelein, North Chicago, Round Lake, Salem Central, Stevenson, Warren, Wauconda and Waukegan West sent teams to the competition.

There were four written tests: algebra I, geometry, algebra II, and advanced topics.

Each test consisted of 20 difficult problems and the students had 50 minutes for the test. No calculators or tables were permitted and no partial credit was given.

The schools score was the sum of its two highest individuals in each subject area.

There were also two relay events. In the relay four students sit in a row, one behind the other. The first student works his/her problem and passes only the answer, the next student uses this answer in his/her problem.

Each of the four team members have different problems to work. It is an exciting and enjoyable type of competition. It can also be frustrating because if one student makes a mistake on his/her problem all the answers of the students behind him/her will also be wrong since one must use the answer of the person ahead to do his/her problem.

The students seemed to greatly enjoy the competition and the challenge. It is beneficial to give recognition to the students who excel in academics.

GETTING USED TO BIFOCALS

If you can move your eyes, you won't have any problem getting used to bifocals. The eyeglasses have to be properly fitted so they are centered in front of your eyes. The rest is up to you.

Your eyes will move up to use the vision correction in the upper part of the lens. That's for looking at objects beyond your reading distance, depending on your vision problem. Your eyes move down naturally when you're reading to make use of the lower part of the lens.

Walking up or down stairs may be a problem at first. You have to look down to see where you're going. You may find it easier to use the upper part of your lens. All you have to do is bend your chin down a bit. The same goes when you're stepping off a curb. It just takes a little practice.

Bifocals are convenient to use. You don't have to change glasses for different kinds of viewing. But if you'd rather have two sets of glasses, you have that option, too.

State to raise camping fees

Class C camping areas at Chain O' Lakes State Park, in the northernmost corners of Lake and McHenry Counties, will be reclassified to a "B" designation and camping fees will be increased accordingly.

Campgrounds affected by the reclassification include Turner Lake South, Prairie View, Catfish Cove and Mud Lake East. The state park's Class A area, Honeysuckle Hollow campground, and its youth group camping facility will retain their present classifications.

The change in classification at Chain O'Lakes will coincide with the new fee schedule slated to become effective statewide on April 1. Under the new plan Class A campground fees will increase from $5 to $6, Class B will move up from $4 to $5 and the charge for youth camping will be 50 cents per person or a minimum of $5 per group.

Racing to begin at Lake Geneva

Dale Erdmann, program director at the Lake Geneva Raceway, announced that the 1982 season opener will take place on Saturday night, April 10, weather permitting.

Divisions to race this season will include late models under a new rule system developed during the winter.

The rules are simple and will enable late model drivers from any area to come race by just changing to cast iron intake and exhaust, meeting the minimum weight rule and running eight inch wheels and seven inch DOT tires.

COMPETITION should be close and produce a full field of cars each night.

A new point system is also going to be used with a total of 1,000 points that can be used. The pay per point will depend on the size of the crowd, but a minimum was to be announced at the general meeting on April 6.

The hobby stocks will race each night and with a few changes in their rules a large field of cars is expected.

Back by popular demand will be one on one spectator drags where fans from the stands can compete against each other on the paved oval track in their own street cars.

THE MINI-STOCKS and a brand new division will join Saturday night racing on May 15. The new group is roadrunner bombers for the individual who loves to race but has a minimum interest.

Rules are available by sending a large self addressed stamped envelope to Lake Geneva Raceway Rules, 1231 Main St., Union Grove, 53182.

Raceway information can be obtained by calling (414) 878-3940 week nights from 7 to 9 p.m.

Fans who want to know late up to the minute details should tune to WMJR 1550 am; WXR 105 FM; WAUK 1500 am; WLIC 102 FM or WMCW 1600 am; or call the weather phone on Saturdays after 1 p.m. at the raceway (414) 248-8566.

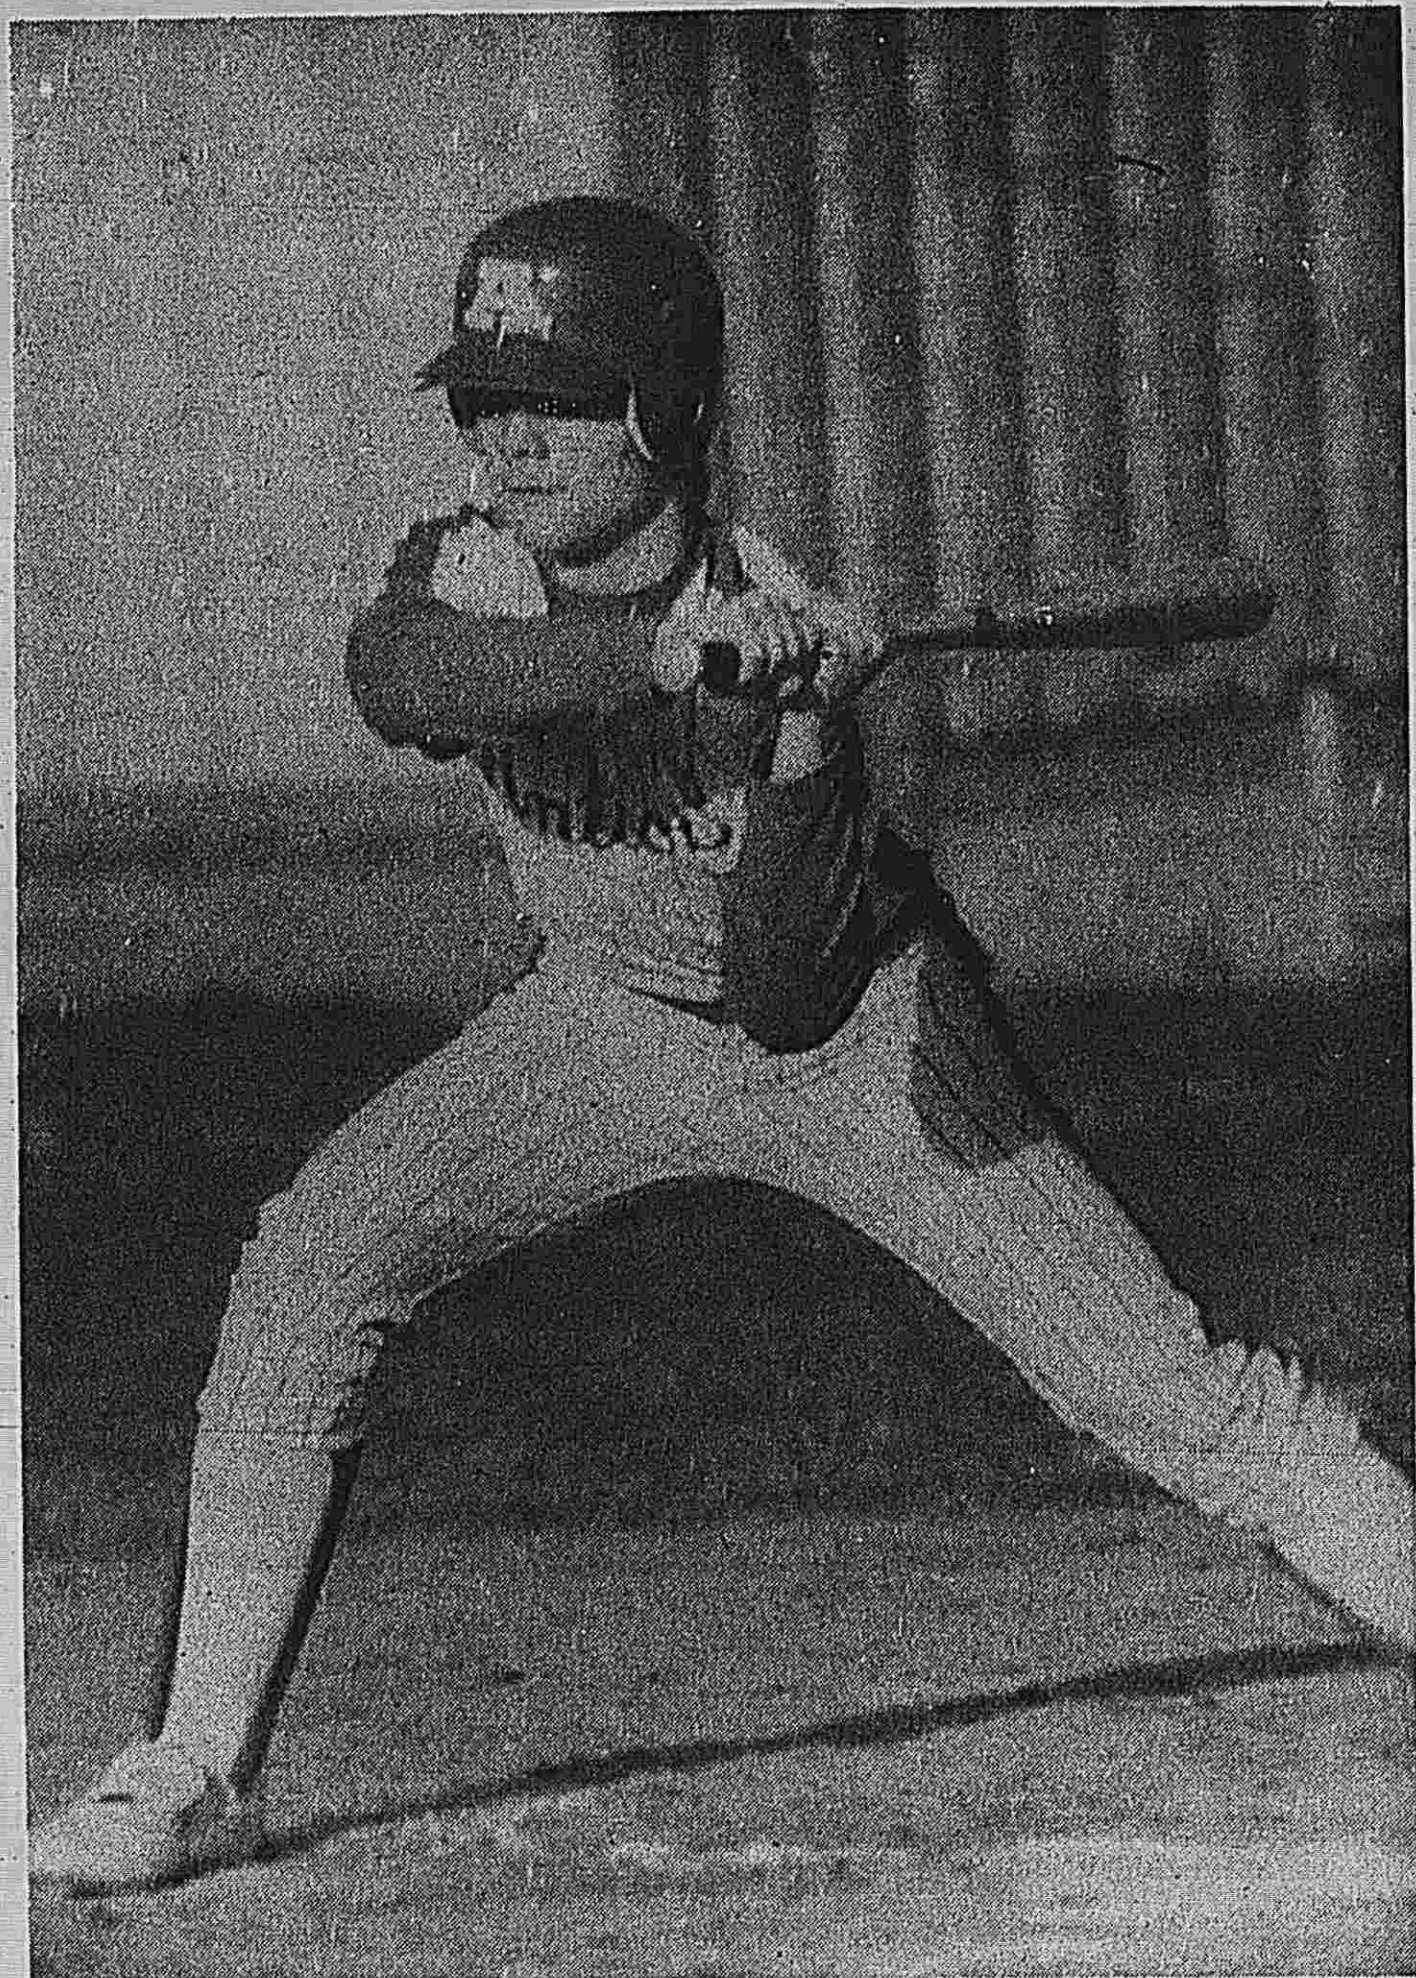

SOME OF the top drivers to compete opening night are John Holdorf and Dale Brandenburg of Janesville, Rick Katzman of East Troy, the former 1981 hobby stock champion, Fred Boal of Hebron, Roger Otto of Burlington, last season's limited champion, and Roger Meyer of Columbus, former 1975-76 champion. All will be in the new late model division.

In hobby stocks are Larry Kahlke of Lake Geneva and Dan Johnson of Williams Bay out of the top three from last season finished just a few points apart, Steve Krohn of Lake Geneva and Jim Healy of East Troy.

All will have their hands full as new to this track will be drivers like 18-year-old Mary Middleton of Burlington, a high school senior who is preparing for her first season here. Other newcomers because of rule changes include the Trevor Trio of Lyle, Dan and Larry Derler to just name a few.

Time trials begin at 7 p.m. with the first race at 8. Admission prices will remain the same as last season and kids under 12 are free with a parent.

The raceway is a quarter mile paved oval located on the southeast side of Lake Geneva just off old Hwy. 12 (now called County H So.) on Bloomfield Rd.

ROPA SCORES — Antioch High School's Dan Ropa had two bases on balls and scored twice as Antioch took North Chicago, 15-6, in their home opener on Thursday, April 1. Sequoia also defeated Rockford Harlem, 9-6, on Wednesday, March 31. — Photo by Forrest Muschewski

Sacred Choir presents spring concert April 24

Sacred Choir of the Lakes will close its 10th season with a major concert on April 24, at 8 p.m., at St. Anastasia Church, Waukegan.

The concert by the choir, with orchestra and soloists, will feature the "Mass" in G Major by Franz Schubert, and choruses from the "German Requiem" by Johannes Brahms, and excerpts from "Gloria" by Antonio Vivaldi, along with selected anthems.

Musical director of Sacred Choir is Howard Heyer of Waukegan, and organist is Ron Lemke of Lindenhurst. Soloists for the April 24 concert will be: tenor, Rev. Jim Ray, associate pastor at St. Anastasia Church, who has previously sung in many musical productions, including "Oliver", presented at St. Bartholomew in the fall, and "Fiddler on the Roof", given at Carmel High School in the spring of last year.

Bass soloist is Rev. Walter D. Kreger, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church in Waukegan, who is a well-known soloist in the Waukegan area, having also appeared with Sacred Choir of the Lakes at its December concert; and soprano, Evelyn Bolt, who has been a frequent soloist with Sacred Choir and is its associate director. She has also sung in programs in West Lake County and is music director of Lake Villa United Methodist Church.

Sacred Choir of the Lakes is a non-denominational choir. Its membership is drawn from all sections of Lake County. The choir has appeared on television and radio; it has also issued five stereophonic recordings.

In keeping with Sacred Choir of the Lakes' tradition, there will be no admission charge for the concert. A free will offering will be received. St. Anastasia Church, 624 Douglas, Waukegan, is located one block south of Glen Flora, just one block east of Jackson, and about four blocks west of Sheridan Rd. Parking will be available in the church parking lot. The general public is welcome.

ASL announces 91-day certificate

Antioch Savings has announced that a new high-yielding 91 day certificate of deposit will become available May 1.

This new certificate will be indexed to the 13 week Treasury Bill rate, with savings and loans paying an amount equal to the discount rate, while banks are allowed to pay one quarter of one percent less.

However, if the Treasury Bill rate falls below one percent for four consecutive weeks, the one fourth of one percent differential will be eliminated.

This new certificate was designed to help banks and savings and loans compete more effectively with the Money Market Mutual Funds.

James M. Swiatek, president of Antioch Savings and Loan, stated that the 13 week Treasury Bills are running in the 13 percent range, which makes this investment very competitive.

Further, unlike Money Market Funds, the association will guarantee the rate paid for the full 91 day term, along with insuring it to $100,000 by the FSLIC.

Youth bowlers to end season

The youth bowlers at Antioch Bowling Lanes will conclude their season on April 17. The bowling banquet for the prep leagues, National, American and Bantam, will be held on Sunday, April 25, at 2 p.m.

The banquet for the Junior/Major, Junior A and Junior B leagues will be on the same day at 6 p.m.

The banquets, to be held in the Tower Room, will also honor the sponsors of all the bowling teams. Parents, relatives and friends are also invited. Tickets must be purchased in advance for those who plan to eat at the banquet.

Tickets can be gotten at Antioch Bowl Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., or on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Youth bowlers attend free but must have a ticket if they plan to eat. Tickets will be passed out to the youth bowlers during leagues on Saturdays.

For further information call Lois Hartman at (414) 889-4165 or contact Sue Hallwas or Mabel Weber at Antioch Bowling Lanes at (312) 395-1155.

Sequoit auxiliary to meet April 14

Sequoit Auxiliary VFW 4551 held its regular meeting on March 10. President Lucile Techert presided. Geraldine Nobel was initiated and welcomed into the organization. A membership application was read from Helen Wais. She was accepted and will be initiated in April.

Ellen Flint, national home chairman, voted to send a donation of $25 for the dental program at the national home. A donation of $25 was given to child welfare. Lillian Burnette, cancer chairman, voted to give a $25 donation for cancer research.

The kitchen was offered to the auxiliary to work and manage all functions that are held at the hall. There was some discussion, but it was tabled til later.

Vera Condella suggested a social night be held once in awhile which would bring members out and allow them to get to know each other.

The next regular meeting of the auxiliary is April 14, at 7:30 p.m.

Election of 1982-83 officers will take place at that meeting.

Martins destroy insects

Within the next few weeks, Lake County will experience the annual return of the purple martin. These are migratory birds spending their winter in the Amazon region of Brazil and living in North America during the summer months.

They live exclusively on mosquitos, flies, and other flying insects. The number of insects these birds consume is phenomenal.

Studies have shown that a martin, whose digestive process and metabolic rate are extremely rapid, must on an average, consume its own weight in insects each day.

Its average weight is four ounces, and this equals approximately 14,000 mosquitos.

There's another nice feature about the purple martin that can have an effect on our town's mosquito population.

Purple martins are colonial birds, which means they love to live with lots of other purple martins in man-made apartment houses.

Twenty of these birds could get rid of over a quarter of a million mosquitos everyday!

If you have an interest in getting rid of mosquitos nature's way and without the use of harmful pesticides, why not invest in a purple martin house.
